

The property comprises 34 exquisitely serviced residences below. This stays and long-term residential elegance. Though distinct in form and heritage—honoring the legacy of the hotel's original architecture with its teakwood pillars that inspired its enduring design principles and

A design-forward approach

From the moment you enter the lobby, the design is evident. Natural light pours over floors of polished stone, and the walls are neutrals accented by royal blue panels. The spaces are open and airy, beyond the glass. Interiors balance modern and traditional with vaulted ceilings, mood-adjustable lighting, soaking tubs, walk-in showers,

A modern lounge area with a large, colorful abstract mural on the wall. In the foreground, a round wooden table is surrounded by blue upholstered chairs with white patterned cushions. The table is set with white flowers in glass vases and small white bowls. A large circular chandelier hangs from the ceiling. The background features a large circular opening and a reception desk.

Design plays a central role throughout, from the signature rocking chairs on every balcony to the custom cabinetry and walk-in wardrobes. Suites are named after historic Thai kingdoms—Sukhothai, Ayutthaya, Thonburi, and Rattanakosin—and while they vary in size and layout, each one is characterized by spacious living areas and historic Thai kingdoms—Sukhothai, Ayutthaya, Thonburi—each vary in size and layout, each one is characterized by its own unique style of architecture and design.

refined craftsmanship. Even at their most expansive, these are not spaces meant to impress with scale alone, but with thoughtful intimacy and function. The larger Rattanakosin Suites, for instance, seamlessly integrate a two-bedroom configuration with a central living area and dining space, designed for convivial gatherings or quiet retreat.

A large, modern dining area with a long marble-top table, green bar stools, and a well-stocked bar in the background. The space is bright and airy, with large windows and a high ceiling. The bar area is visible in the background, featuring a variety of bottles and a menu board. The dining area is furnished with a mix of green bar stools and wooden chairs, and the floor is covered with a patterned rug. The overall atmosphere is warm and inviting, suitable for both casual dining and more formal occasions.

also enjoy snacks and cocktails at the Po —or opt for 24-hour in-room private dinin

Rooted in story, oriented toward the future

Though unapologetically modern in construction, 137 Pillars Suites & Residences is

SEND

☐ I've read and accept the terms & conditions

Gallery

Gallery

A photograph of a gallery interior. The ceiling is made of dark wood with a coffered pattern. Large windows on the left side offer a view of greenery outside. The walls are lined with wooden display cases and shelves, filled with various objects, including framed pictures, small sculptures, and decorative items. The lighting is warm and focused on the displays.

A striking vertical sanctuary

ALSO IN ARCHITECTURE

The Interpretation Centre of Romanesque by Spaceworkers

ARCHITECTURE 16/07/2020

VIEW ALL

A Milan-based design magazine, sharing trends and innovations from-with a global design community of millions.

DESIGNWANTED	PRODUCTS
About us	Milan Design Week 2026
Subscribe	Brands
Submit	Designers
Contact	Architects

© 2022 DesignWanted S.r.l. (Innovative StartUp) Registered office: Via Aurelio Saffi 29,
20123 Milan (Italy) | VAT no.: 10565330965 | ROC no.: 36152 | REA no.: MI-2541466
| Share capital: 12.540€

Privacy Policy Terms and Conditions Cookies Policy

SIGN UP HERE membership

100