

Artistic Cake for Autism Fundraising Campaign

Bangkok Trading Post Bistro & Bar Partners with Autistic Thai Foundation

Available from 8 October to 30 November 2021

137 Pillars Hotels & Resorts continues its partnership with The Autistic Thai Foundation (ATF) to raise funds for children with autism with a new collaboration. 10 percent of cake purchase will be donated to The Autistic Thai Foundation and Artstory, a social enterprise functions under the Foundation that uses art to promote and encourage the creativity of individuals with an autism spectrum disorder to gain self-development with pride through the exceptional art pieces they produce, as well as helping them with special needs.

In their latest collaboration, Pastry Chef Suthon Phoungsatit, has created an artistic and delicious pistachio and blackcurrant layered cake which is presented in a delicate, edible black and white chocolate box featuring Artstory's black and white logo illustration called "My Friends".

The illustration was drawn by Ms. Naphacharan (K. Nui) who is a student and artist at Artstory. Her signature design has become the official logo which is proudly used on a variety of merchandise, including t-shirts, bucket hats, cloth bags, glasses, scarves etc, showcasing the talents of an autistic artist.

Inside the beautiful edible chocolate box is a delicious four-layered cake, made from premium ingredients. The top layer is a smooth whipped pistachio ganache made from pistachio paste, Valrhona white chocolate and cream. The ganache is whipped to infuse the pistachio flavour into the silky mousse texture. The second layer consists of delicious homemade blackcurrant jam with a third layer of moist, chewy vanilla almond cream cake which sits on a crispy sweet almond cracker as the base. When eaten together, the flavours and textures combine into a luxurious sweet treat for the palate.
